

FOREVER CURIOUS

CO-CREATED BY KID CURIOUS & _____

issue one: connected

Welcome to FOREVER CURIOUS. The online magazine that is co-created with YOU.

Our theme this issue is CONNECTED.

At a time when connection is needed more than ever, you and your curiosity will be helping to find new ways of connecting people and the world around you.

So dream BIG & GO GET EM.

It's time to feed your curious

KEEP IT CURIOUS

Quick & easy hacks to help you stay connected with friends and family from afar.

1. CREATE YOUR OWN NEWSPAPER

Use our template on the next page to interview family and friends over Skype or Zoom. Use your findings to help fill in the spaces and create your own knock out story.

2. INVENT A NEW GAME

Running out of things to do? Then why not invent a new game for the whole family to enjoy. From silly challenges and dares to mazes and assault courses. Use your curiosity to think up some fun ideas.

3. LEARN SOMETHING NEW

How much do you really know about your friends? However much you think you know, we're guessing you could still know more. Design a fun quiz for them to complete filled with things you'd love to find out about them.

4. START A FAMILY BAND

Music is great for connecting people. So why not start up a family band? Crack out some pots and pans, write a few funny lyrics and jam the night away. Who knows, you could be headlining Glastonbury this time next year.

Follow these 3 simple steps to discover just how easy it can be to act on your curiosity and create positive change...

CURIOUS HEROES

All children are curious but Curious Heroes are the ones who act on their curiosity and use it for good.

1. What is one thing you wish you could change about the world?

(Think about what bothers you, upsets you or makes you angry. Or maybe it's something you love and you wish more people knew about)

2. What could YOU do to help create this change?

(Think big. Maybe you can't actually do these things now but you could learn how to or you could find the right people to help)

3. What is one thing you could do right now to begin creating this change no matter how small?

(Think about what skills, materials and people you have available to use right now)

Now you know what you can do, nothing can stop you. Be a Curious Hero and act on your ideas today.

CONNECTED STORIES

Since lockdown began, humans have been finding cool new ways of connecting with each other from afar and we've been blown away by the creativity we have seen. Check out some examples below...

How do you like to connect with others? What makes you feel happiest?

CONNECTED THROUGH MUSIC:

Care home residents in America have set up their own radio station called 'Radio Recliner' to connect with other care homes during lockdown through their shared love of music.

CONNECTED THROUGH TOUCH:

A British man who misses his Gran's hugs so much has spent £70 on materials to create a plastic 'cuddle curtain' so they can have a quick squeeze while still staying safe from infection.

CONNECTED THROUGH COMMUNITY SPIRIT:

While Clap For Carers was originally set up to thank the NHS, it quickly became the nations favourite way to feel connected with the wider community.

CONNECTED THROUGH GAMES:

150,000 people from the all across the UK connect online every Thursday as part of the countries largest EVER virtual pub quiz.
